Football League — Fourth Division

Barnsley's biggest supporter

NCB

says...

It takes time to adjust to a different class of football. I have found that coming from the First to the Fourth Division this season, and I am sure the same applies to this afternoon's opponents, Wigan, making the transition from the Lancashire Combination to the Football League.

Taking that into account, they have made a fair start to their first League season, but they are still feeling their way and if they can consolidate their place this season they will be more than happy.

Wimbledon, for instance, found it very difficult for most of last season, which was their first in the League, but look at them now! They have learned quickly and well.

But Wimbledon must be concerned that they are still averaging less than 3,000 for home matches, and this is where Wigan may prove to have an advantage, for their average gate so far is around 6,000.

And my lads will tell you what a tremendous lift it is to have a big crowd behind you. Take last Friday night's game for instance. The support we had was magnificent. You would have thought we were the home team, not County.

Of course, other teams rise to the occasion when they feel the atmosphere here at Oakwell. It's on a par with First Division teams going to Old Trafford or Anfield. But that's something we are prepared to live with, so long as the support is there.

SPOTLIGHT on

Elected to the Football League this season, Wigan Athletic can point to the best overall playing record of all Northern Premier League Clubs during the ten years that League has been in existence. Only twice in that time have they failed to finish in the top three, and last season they were winners of the Lancashire Junior Cup; runners-up in the Northern Premier League; semi-finalists in the Premier League Challenge Cup; and, in addition, reached the third round of the F.A. Cup before losing to Birmingham City.

Learning from the mistake of Wimbledon last season, the Football League's latest recruits have opted for a full-time professional staff from the start, and they appear to be adapting fairly quickly to the demands of the Fourth Division.

They opened their programme with a 0-0 draw at Hereford, but then came four successive defeats which must have been a severe test of their character and confidence.

However, they came back fighting, and the last seven matches have produced nine points, with victories over Rochdale, Scunthorpe and Doncaster at home, against York City away, and an away draw at Huddersfield.

After last Saturday's 1-0 victory over Doncaster Rovers, manager Ian McNeill commented: "Our best performance at home this season. We made it hard work by missing so many chances. And I believe we may need to buy a striker to take us into a challenging position."

Top scorer so far is 24-years-old Frank Corrigan, who was signed from Northwich Victoria last season and immediately became a warm favourite at Springfield Park. He is a fine ball player.

Leading scorer for the past two seasons, 28-years-old John Wilkie, who was signed for a four-figure fee from Elgin City in the Highland League, has still to get off the mark, and the same applies to 23-years-old Peter Houghton, who was signed from South Liverpool in the Premier League last season and scored 10 goals in 17 games.

During the close season McNeill bought four players with Football League experience to strengthen his squad, the most experienced of them being 27-years old Ian Seddon, from Rochdale, who has also been with Bolton, Chester, Stockport (on loan) and Cambridge (on loan).

Twenty-two-years-old centre-half Neil Davids, signed from Swansea City, is a former England Youth international who has also been on the books of Leeds United and Norwich City, while 20-years-old Alan Crompton was formerly an inside-forward with Blackburn and Sunderland.

Youngest of the four is 19-years-old Kevin Smart, signed on a free transfer from Plymouth Argyle, for whom he made nine Second Division and 33 Third Division appearances.

It also turned down a plea to give them special status as political prisoners.

The allegation and the plea were made by the Roman Catholic Primate of All Ireland, Tomás Ó Fiaich, Archbishop of Armagh, who proposed one after visiting prisoners at Long Kesh, near Belfast.

He said the Republican prisoners lived in cold, wet, dank cells without furniture, without clothes and without food.

Another new face at Springfield Park is 25-years-old Ian Purdie, a former Scottish Under 23 international who was signed from Motherwell after previous spells with Aberdeen and Dundee in the Scottish League.

At the other end of the scale is club skipper Ian Gillibrand, who has been with Wigan ten seasons, during which he has made more than 600 appearances. He was signed originally from Arsenal.

The only member of the Northern Premier League side to remain part-time is winger Micky Worwick, a former amateur international, who has been an outstanding non-league player for the past ten years.

Goalkeeper John Brown, now 30, is in his third season with the club after having seen Football League service with Preston and Stockport.

The one Irishman in the squad is Noel Ward, a 24-years-old who was signed from Scottish team Aberdeen two seasons ago. Born in Straban, Northern Ireland, he played for Portadown before moving to Scotland.

Player of the Year last season was 25-years-old former Tranmere Rovers' man Tommy Gore, who possesses an extremely powerful shot. He is now in his fifth season with the club.

The other two members of the Wigan squad are 21-years-old Joe Hinnigan, signed four years ago for a five-figure fee from South Liverpool, and 24-years-old Jeff Wright, a good ball player who also gets a fair quota of goals. He was signed from Netherfield four seasons ago.

If only Sir Joe could see his League Cup 'baby' now!

Sir Joe Richards would have loved to live to see it: his League Cup 'baby' grown to full maturity — and this season providing us with one of the longest strings of upsets in Cup-fighting history.

Sir Joe, ex-Football League president and Barnsley chairman for 21 years, saw his brainchild born in 1960.

But its arrival was greeted with what can, at best, only be described as scepticism.

Several top clubs, including Sheffield Wednesday — what they wouldn't give for a slice of League Cup glory now — shunned the competition in its early years.

Yet now it breathes down the neck of its big brother, the F.A. Cup, in the thrill, spill and sensation stakes — and this season's amazing results show why.

With the fourth round due in early November only seven First Division clubs are certain to line up bidding for a place in the quarter-finals.

Villa could make it eight if they overcome vastly improved Palace in a second replay.

But the draw ensures that a maximum of four First Division teams will go forward to the last eight.

It's been giant-killing on a grand scale, with Watford's triumph at Old Trafford and Sheffield United's tumbling of mighty Liverpool high on the list of shock K.O's.

United, of course, went the way of Liverpool last week when Leeds made it all look so easy with a crushing 4-1 win at the Lane — a night that marked the triumphant return of a half-fit but still so classy Tony Currie.

Leeds, who now travel to Q.P.R., are Yorkshire's only remaining contenders for Forest's League Cup crown.

How fitting it would be if they could mark the ten years since Sir Joe's death by winning at Wembley.

Leeds, unlike other top clubs such as Arsenal, Spurs, Liverpool, Everton, the Manchester teams — and Wednesday — have supported the tournament since its beginning.

And South Yorkshire's Rotherham United earned early distinction by reaching the first final in 1961, when they lost 3-2 on aggregate to Villa.

The two-legged finals remained until 1967 when the Cup really earned respectability with its first final at Wembley, which Q.P.R. won, beating West Brom 3-2.

Then came entry into Europe in the Fairs Cup — now the UEFA Cup — for the winners . . . and the League Cup had arrived.

Only Manchester United of the 92 League clubs failed to enter in 1968-69 — Wednesday had joined the fold in '66 — and the following season saw the first full complement of the competition's ten-year life.

Now, the Cup they labelled a flop in those early years is firmly established at the top of the pots!

What the Papers Said

. . . about the Reds' game at Stockport last Friday night.

● Mike Summerbee recaptured the controversy of his Manchester City days in front of Edgeley Park's biggest gate of the season when he was sent off 20 minutes from the end of a bruising Fourth Division clash with Barnsley. Claiming afterwards that he only retaliated, Summerbee was left to reflect on the lost chance of closing on leaders Wimbledon. — Daily Express.

● Barnsley maintained their unbeaten away record, but it was not a game to be remembered from any other satisfactory viewpoint, because uncertain refereeing, bad temper and petty fouling ruined what had promised in the early stages to be a highly entertaining encounter. — KEITH LODGE, Barnsley Chronicle.

● All Barnsley's heroes were in defence. Saunders and McCarthy blocked most of Stockport's thrusts, and another defender, Chambers, put in Barnsley's only worthwhile shot. — Morning Telegraph, Sheffield.

● The game deteriorated from the 18th minute when Stockport's top scorer, Lee, missed a penalty which would have brought his season's tally to ten. — Yorkshire Post.

Introducing . . .

The Milky Bar Kid chalks up his 150th appearance

While the rest of the Barnsley players are tucking into their nice thick, juicy steaks on match days, one of them nibbles on a bar of chocolate.

Says goalkeeper Peter Springett: "Normally, like most footballers, I just love a steak, but somehow I can't enjoy one before a game. Until about a season and a half ago I used to force it down just for the sake of eating something, because I was told it wouldn't do me any good playing on an empty stomach.

"But I was never happy, and I feel much better now. I have a nice bacon sandwich for breakfast, and then the chocolate is quite enough to keep me going through the afternoon."

At other times Peter blows hot and cold about his food. For instance, he likes curry, but can eat ice-cream by the gallon. And, like the advert on the telly, choc ice and chips is a meal with real Springett appeal.

In fact, I'm told on good authority that this is what he and daughters Karen (10) and Claire (six) are living on at the moment while his wife, Jane, is on holiday!

Like most goalkeepers, Peter has his superstitions. He always does the same exercises before a game, and always dresses in the same order, putting his right boot on before his left, and so on. And he's dreading the moment when he's issued with the new club tie, because the one he's wearing at the moment is his lucky one.

He told me "I suppose it's a bit silly, really. But sometimes it makes you wonder. For instance, when we lost to Torquay that was the first time we hadn't trained before a home game. Since then we've gone back to what we had always done before, and we've not been beaten again at Oakwell. Yet I had the feeling against Torquay that it was going to be one of those games, just because the pattern of our build-up had altered."

When he's not playing football, Peter trains Hill Top, a local team near his Dronfield home. Unfortunately, because he's in action on Saturdays he hardly ever gets a chance to see them play — last week-end being one of those rare occasions, with the Reds playing Friday night.

He also plays squash for a team in the Dronfield area, although a kick on the hand in Barnsley's match at Bradford has curtailed his appearances this season.

He likes to watch most sporting events on television, although he doesn't bother with horse racing. "I just can't understand it," he told me.

Apart from sport, he enjoys a good documentary, particularly about wild life, and he finds 'that new Bruce Forsyth thing' quite entertaining as well.

He thinks Tommy Cooper is 'magic,' and other comedians who make him laugh are the Two Ronnies and Freddie Starr.

Musically, he has a taste for Helen Reddy, Boney M — he thinks their new album is great — and Abba.

There is nothing that he particularly dislikes, although he would not claim that training was one of his favourite pastimes, and he says: "I am enjoying life so much at the moment, why should I feel bad about anything? I tell you what, I wish that I'd come to Barnsley earlier. It's been just great. And never better than it is just now."

At Aldershot on Tuesday night Peter made his 150th League appearance for the Reds. With a further 139 to his credit at Q.P.R. and 180 more at Sheffield Wednesday, that takes his total tally to 469.

And he's still only 32. Honest!!!

UNIPART

FOCUS on FOUR

Life at Wimbledon these days means champagne after every match. But it's not to celebrate the team's superb performance in soaring to the top of the Fourth Division table, although that is reason enough.

Dario Gradi, winner of the Bell's Whisky Manager of the Month Award for September, has such a young team that four players have had 21st birthdays in the last four weeks, and that's always a good excuse for breaking open a bottle of bubbly.

After the 3-1 battering of Scunthorpe last Saturday it was full-back Tommy Eames who celebrated his 'coming of age.'

And after that reference to champagne I can't resist pointing out that a chap called Cork popped up with his 11th goal of the season!

But Wimbledon haven't much to celebrate about as far as their gates are concerned. Only 3,808 fans bothered to turn out to watch a team with a 100 per cent home record after six matches, and unbeaten away from home with three wins and three draws.

How they must envy clubs like Barnsley, who are regularly topping the 10,000 mark at Oakwell and just about doubling the gates of other clubs wherever they go.

There was another best-of-the-season for Stockport County when the Reds visited Edgeley Park last Friday night (9,054), and it was sad that they should see no goals but four bookings and the sending-off of County's controversial player-manager Mike Summerbee.

Summerbee, incidentally, has been linked with the manager's job at Blackburn Rovers, but denies that he has been approached.

It was interesting to see Rovers' recently deposed boss, Jim Iley, who joined them from Barnsley towards the end of last season, at the Stockport game.

Dave Bruton, Newport County's new £17,000 defender from Swansea City, helped County to their first home win of the season last Saturday, when they beat Huddersfield Town 2-1.

Newport's re-structured defence looked much more confident, even when under the severest pressure as Huddersfield raised a storming second half fight-back, and manager Len Ashurst was delighted with the outcome.

Despite his side's win at York, Bradford City manager John Napier emphasised that his warning of a clear-out unless there was improvements after recent disappointing displays, still applied.

Keith Lodge

Reporting

"This game showed that the players can do better than they have been doing in recent weeks," he said. "Now they have to do it all the time."

Port Vale boss Dennis Butler usually makes it a rule never to single out individuals for mention, but after his side's 3-0 win at Halifax he delighted in the performance of striker Bernie Wright.

Wright grabbed two goals and laid on a third for new signing Kevin Tully, who scored only four minutes after coming on as substitute.

Hereford, meanwhile, partially laid the Bournemouth bogey when they collected a point from a drab goalless draw. It was only the fifth League meeting between the two teams and Bournemouth had won the other four.

Billy Horner, the Hartlepool boss, was considering an appeal against the sending off of Derek Loadwick, his new £8,000 signing from Stockport County, in the 1-1 draw at Aldershot. Loadwick was sent off in the 56th minute for allegedly kicking out at the grounded John Dungworth.

Now Juniors blaze the Cup trail

by BARRY MURPHY

After beating Leeds United 3-1 on their own ground in the first round, first leg of the Northern Intermediate League Challenge Cup we expected them to arrive for the second leg on the Queen's Ground last Saturday with a strong, experienced team. And so it proved.

They included three or four Central League players in their line-up and they looked capable of making a game of it for the first 20 minutes.

But perhaps that was as much due to the fact that we had made six changes — three of them positional — and once we settled down the lads again showed their potential by scoring three goals without reply.

In all the circumstances it was a great result for us — a brilliant all-round team performance.

As I say, we came back well after that early Leeds pressure, and if the television cameras had been there I'm sure that our first goal in the 35th minute would have been in the running for the 'Goal of the Season.'

Kevin McCarthy picked up a throw from goalkeeper Gary Copley, set off on a positive run in which he beat three men, and then sent in a shot from just inside the penalty area with such tremendous force that the 'keeper couldn't deflect it even though he got his hands to it.

It was a pity that Kevin had to go off shortly after through injury, but Mick Avis did a great job dropping to full-back, and substitute Gary Smith, playing his first game after a cartilage operation, came on to score two goals!

Gary Skidmore played particularly well at full-back and there were promising performances from Winston Campbell — a coloured lad from Sheffield — and apprentice Ian Johnson.

Incidentally, this was our ninth successive win to keep our 100 per cent record for the season — and six of those games have been away from home! Now we are faced with two more away games.

The team was: Copley, Skidmore, Bell, Roscoe, McCarthy (Smith), Johnson, Speedie, Campbell, Reed, Billingham, Avis.
